FRANCIS SCHRIVER TAKEN BY DEATH

Town Business Man Succumbs to an Illness of Less than a Week. Other Deaths in the County. Hours for the Funerals.

Francis R. Schriver died on Wednesday afternoon about four o'clock at his home on York street, from the effects of an attack of apoplexy received last Thursday morning while at his regular employment at the I. M. Reynolds store on Carlisle street. He never regained consciousness. He was aged 51 years, 8 months and 2 days.

Mr. Schriver was born in Huntingdon township on April 15, 1862, a son of Jacob and Elizabeth Schriver. For a number of years he conducted a grocery store on Baltimore street in the room now occupied by the H. B. Sefton barber shop. Later he was in the employ of the People's Cash Store, and then for two years was with the John C. Lower Co. More recently he was clerking for Irwin M. Reynolds at his grocery store on Carlisle street. Mr. Schriver was generally known for his pleasant and courteous manner and he had a host of friends in town and the county.

He was a member of the Reformed church and was one of its deacons at the time of his death. He was also a member of Gettys Lodge of Odd Fellows and the Modern Woodmen of America.

He leaves his wife whose maiden name was Alice Little, and one child, Elizabeth Schriver who is recovering from an attack of diphtheria at her home. Two children are dead. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Sidney Schriver and Miss Sadie Schriver, both of this place.

Funeral services will be held at the Reformed church on Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The body will not be taken to the church. Immediately after these services interment will be made in Evergreen Cemetery. Both the church and cemetery services will be public. Dr. T. J. Barkley and Rev. J. Charles Gardner will be the officiating clergymen.

HORSES RUN INTO MOVING TRAIN

Team Dashes into Rapidly Moving Freight Train and then Runs Rapidly Down the Tracks. Finally Stopped by Bumping Block.

Dashing full speed into a rapidly moving freight train, the two horse team of Samuel Lott escaped serious injury in a remarkable manner at the corner of Washington and Railroad streets on Wednesday.

Mr. Lott had taken a load of turkeys to the Hollinger produce house and went into the building, leaving the horses on the north side of the old freight house. A heavy Western Maryland coal train came along and the animals took fright, turned sharply about and started for Washington street. There they turned south and ran directly towards the train which was now crossing the street and moving at good speed. The horses dashed madly for the big freight cars and the tongue of the wagon broke sharply in two as it struck against the train.

This arrested the progress of the animals for a brief moment and then they turned east and galloped up the track towards Carlisle street. How far they would have gone or what further damage would have resulted is a matter for conjecture, but fortunately the wagon caught on the big bumping block on the Reading siding at the Isaac Kauffman property and stopped there.

Inspection of the horses and wagon showed little damage to have been done aside from some bruises to one of the animals and the broken wagon tongue.

Frank Miller has erected a large chicken house.

S. J. Collins killed a hog on Tuesday that tipped the beam at 393 pounds.

On that evening Mr. Sipes, who was a man eighty years of age, was about his barn on an errand when he tripped and fell fracturing his leg. He is survived by his widow and several children.

RAISE HOTEL RATES

"High Cost" Figures at Carlisle's Leading Hotels.

Declaring that their reason is the high cost of living, three hotels at Carlisle have announced a raise in rates to take effect on January 1. This will put the three leading hotels in Carlisle, which have heretofore been $2 houses, in the $2.50 class. The proprietors argue that they cannot make both ends meet if they serve 50-cent dinners and have boosted the cost to 75 cents for this meal. Lodging has also gone up 25 cents.

YOUTH TOO MUCH FOR HIS FATHER

Ran Away from Paradise Rectory Near Abbottstown Twice. Beats his Father Home the Second Time. Chased by Schoolmates.

Because he was home-sick and did not like the daily routine of the Rectory near Abbottstown, Ellis, the 10-year-old son of Harry Staub, of McSherrystown, ran away from that institution for the second time and returned to his home.

The mother of the lad is dead, and two weeks ago Ellis and a younger brother, Rodney, were placed in the orphanage near Abbottstown. After being there for about a week, the older boy became restless and told his little brother he was going home. He ran away early in the morning and a few hours later was at his home in McSherrystown.

Later the father took his son back to the school. The little fellow waited until his parent had left the institution when he again gave those having him in charge the slip and started for Abbottstown. He was observed by several of the older boys, who gave him chase, but Ellis outdistanced them and continued on to Hanover, then to his home in McSherrystown.

After having walked half the distance between Abbottstown and Hanover, a farmer took him in his wagon as far as New Baltimore. He arrived home about 5:30 p. m., half an hour before his father reached there, as he made several stops with friends along the way. When the father went into the house he was told the boy had beaten him home and was now in bed.

WILL HAVE OPPONENTS

Likely that Mr. Brodbeck will have Lively Fight.

A dispatch from York says: "Congressman A. R. Brodbeck will have several contestants for the Democratic nomination to this office from York county in 1914, in addition to the few who may reasonably be expected to crop up in Adams county, the other half of the Twentieth district. James J. Gerry, of York, at present Prothonotary, has announced himself as a candidate, and friends of S. Forry Laucks, of York, and Harry N. Gitt, of Hanover, predict that they also will be in the race. Congressman Brodbeck will seek the customary honor of a second nomination at the hands of his party, and it is regarded as extremely likely that D. F. Lefean, Republican Congressman from this district for five terms, and defeated by Brodbeck for a sixth, will be the nominee of his party again one year hence."

FRUIT GROWERS NOW IN SESSION

Adams County Orchardists Meeting at Bendersville in their Annual Convention. Displays of Fruit and Appliances.

The ninth annual convention of the Fruit Growers' Association of Adams County is now in session in their large and commodious hall at Bendersville. The sessions are well attended, not only by the orchardists of this county but also by many from a distance who are interested in the great business of fruit growing.

The management of the convention secured specially fine lecturers this year on fruit and farm topics and the program from beginning to end is filled with matters of importance to all county people. The evening entertainments are also of exceptional value. The first one Wednesday evening by the Lyric Quartet was very well received.

In addition to the actual work of the convention there is much interest in the displays of apples and other fruits at the hall while exhibits of the various appliances used in orchard cultivation, and of fruit packages are also in charge of representatives of the various firms.

The convention has come to be one of the county's most important events and this year's meetings will continue fully the standard set by the former annual meetings.

SOUTH LOSES MANY DELEGATES

Republican Committee Reduces Representation One-Half.

THE VOTE IS 38 TO 7

Members of the Committee Nearly Come to Blows in Debate Before Vote Was Taken.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Southern representation in Republican national conventions will be reduced from about 33 per cent of the total to about 16 per cent, by action on the part of the national committee. The votes which makes this action was 38 to 7.

Thus was ended an all-day debate, beginning with the suggestion of the sub-committee of nine to the national committee. The seven dissenters fought the whole time to have the southern representation either further reduced or the northern representation proportionately raised, with that of the south remaining stationary.

While they failed to get what they wanted, they got more than they had started with, and the final result is in the nature of a compromise within the committee.

Committee member Howell, of Nebraska, led the fight against the large southern representation, and at more times than one the situation looked ugly. Mr. Carson, of North Dakota, and Mr. Rummel, of Arkansas, nearly came to blows.

At that time the committee, sitting as a whole, had debated without result the merits of several revised representation plans. Mr. Howell leading on one side, and on the other Committee member Warren, of Michigan; Senator Smoot, of Utah, and Mr. Barnes, of New York.

Mr. Rummel, of Arkansas, violently opposed reducing the south's representation. He said the history of Republican conventions showed conclusively that the southern contingent always had followed the lead of a northern majority in support of presidential candidates.

"Are you going to kick us out and make the Republican party a sectional party?" he asked, shaking his fist at Howell. "Treat us fairly. Encourage us as we deserve to be encouraged, and don't try to throttle us."

Under the committee's plan for representation each state will have four delegates-at-large, one from each congressional district, and one additional from each district where the total Republican vote is 35 per cent or more of the total vote cast. No district will have more than two delegates, no matter how large the Republican vote. States having congressmen-at-large will be entitled to one delegate for each.

The southern states that lost in the shuffle and the number of delegates that they had to give up as a peace offering to progressives who demanded the sacrifice are as follows: Alabama, 9; Arkansas, 3; Florida, 4; Georgia, 10; Louisiana, 7; Mississippi, 8; North Carolina, 3; South Carolina, 7; Tennessee, 3; Texas, 15, and Virginia, 9.

Hawaii's representation was reduced from six delegates to two. By this process eighty-two delegates that almost invariably have been controlled by a Republican president desiring to nominate himself have been lost.

CURRENCY VOTE TOMORROW

Final Debate to Be Limited to Fifteen Minutes For Each Senator.

Washington, Dec. 18.—An agreement to vote on the final passage of the administration currency bill "on the legislative day of Friday, Dec. 19," was reached in the senate.

The agreement provides that debate today and tomorrow shall be limited to fifteen minutes for each senator upon each amendment or upon the bill itself.

While the legislative day may run over into Saturday, it is the expectation of senate leaders that the bill will be passed before midnight tomorrow night.

If important amendments are pending at that time, however, a recess may be taken until Saturday morning, as the Republicans would not consent to the agreement until the Democrats promised they would not keep the senate in session all night.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA.

Who Died in Rome.

DEATH OF RAMPOLLA SHOCKS THE POPE

Papal Diplomat Passed Away Very Suddenly.

Rome, Dec. 18.—The death of Cardinal Rampolla, former papal secretary of state, was not made known to Pope Pius X. until Wednesday.

Cardinal Merry Del Val and Monsignor Giovanni Bagan, the pope's private secretary, went to see his holiness, intending to break the news as gently as possible. But when the pope heard the name of Cardinal Rampolla, he grew pale and begged them to tell him the truth without hesitation, as anxiety and uncertainty affected him more than anything else. The two prelates then told him Rampolla was dead.

On Tuesday Cardinal Rampolla went to St. Peter's to inspect the work of restoration of the church. Later he left a general indisposition, which developed into profound prostration. He refused, however, to allow his secretary to remain with him all night in the little palace behind St. Peter's, where he had lived since he left the secretaryship of state.

The cardinal's secretary, alarmed at his condition, consulted a physician. The latter visited the cardinal, but discovered no serious symptoms and ordered him to take a complete rest. Later in the evening the cardinal became worse and had great difficulty in breathing. He sent a messenger hurriedly for his secretary and physician, but when they arrived the cardinal was dead.

AMBASSADORSHIP TOO COSTLY

Salary $17,500, Expenditure $150,000, Says McCombs.

New York, Dec. 18.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, gave his reasons for declining appointment as ambassador to France.

"The post entails the expenditure of about $150,000 a year," he said. "It pays $17,500. I could not afford to accept it. I am going back to the practice of law, and I hope to make some money."

Mr. McCombs testified as an expert in a suit brought by Judge La Fetra against the city to recover $10,000 fees for services in revising the building code. He said he expected to go to Washington to attend the dinner to be given by President Wilson to the diplomatic corps.

Kim is a little shy on nose. The oculist had no glasses that would fit his shaggy, upturned proboscis, therefore the oculist gave exact numbers and lens, and the order is now speeding to New York for a pair of tiny spectacles that will fit Kim.

COLD TO HUERTA'S APPEAL FOR LOAN

French Bankers Refuse Money, It is Reported.

ZAPATA RENEWS BATTLE

Rebels Attack Federals Near Mexico City and Loot Several Towns Near Capital.

Mexico City, Dec. 18.—The offer of General Huerta to pledge his private fortune and the fortunes of members of his cabinet as security for a loan to the Mexican government, has been rejected by a group of French financiers, who were approached by Senor Aldape, former Mexican minister of the interior, according to a dispatch from Paris.

It is understood that the French government advised the group to turn down the proposition because of the attitude of President Wilson toward the dictator.

Saved from immediate danger of attack as a result of a double defeat inflicted on Zapatista rebels at Alta Mira and Lake Xochimilco, the government is centering its attentions on financial conditions. These are becoming worse daily, one bank is already tottering and its fall is likely to drag others down to ruin.

Bank officials and representatives of the government held a long conference in the office of the minister of finance, support of the allied banking interests was pledged for the central bank, which was closed for two hours on Tuesday afternoon as the result of a run started by depositors.

Rallying their forces in the foothills of the Federal district, Zapatista rebels made simultaneous attacks on several government forces and inflicted heavy losses on the Huerta troops.

The sharpest fighting was at Milpa Alta, seventeen miles from the capital, where the Federals were victorious on Tuesday. The Federals were taken by surprise while celebrating in the manner customary among Huerta's forces now and were routed.

The rebels, led by Felipe Tijera, a former Federal officer, captured the greater part of the town in a three-hour attack and killed more than 100 Federals, troopers of the Twenty-first cavalry and mounted police, sent to Milpa Alta from the capital.

The towns of San Lorenzo and San Gregorio were captured by other rebel bands and looted.

More than 1000 reinforcements joined the rebels and attacks were also made on Tepic and Jacala. The rebels seem to have plenty of ammunition, but are lacking in artillery.

They are gradually closing in on the capital, and if they had a few field guns undoubtedly could drive straight to the gates of the city.

Federals March South.

Presidio, Mex., Dec. 18.—Twenty-five hundred Federal soldiers who marched south from Ojinaga under the command of General Orozco are believed to be on their way to attack Chihuahua. A strong guard was left at Presidio and cannon are being mounted and earthworks are being thrown up to resist any surprise attack from Villa's rebels.

SCHOOL OF INSANITY

Murderer in New York Prison Coached to Sham Mental Unsoundness.

New York, Dec. 18.—What appears to be a privately conducted school for those who desire to feign insanity is being conducted within the Tombs prison, according to a discovery made by Deputy Commissioner of Correction William J. Wright.

Judge Swann was appealed to in the court of general sessions and he will begin an investigation.

Information has come to the deputy commissioner that Frank Gorgoni, an Italian shoemaker, accused of murdering Police Sergeant Joseph Mc Nierny, is alleged to have been coached in the art of shamming mental unsoundness by Harrison Laux, a former inmate of Matteawan.

Laux was confined in the state hospital for criminal insane at Matteawan for several years. Recently he was sent back to the Tombs as cured and fit to stand trial.

Laux became acquainted with Gorgoni, and according to the keeper, told the Italian how easy it would be for him to avoid the electric chair. Laux proceeded to coach Gorgoni, it is asserted, assuring him that he would be committed to Matteawan for awhile and then returned as cured, after which he would stand an excellent chance of being set free.

SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS

Gaskill and MacVitty announce for production at Walter's Theatre on Friday, December 19, Harold Bell Wright's dramatization of his very popular novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills". In making the dramatization, Mr. Wright was collaborated with by Elsbury W. Reynolds. "The Shepherd of the Hills" is a story of humor and pathos told in a simple, direct manner, of love, mystery and heroism, with its scenes all in the Ozark mountains, Southern Missouri, where the author lived and preached for some years. There are several exciting incidents, including the night ride of the splendid heroine over the hills through a storm; an attack upon the shepherd, and the moral victory of a man when a panther is about to spring upon his rival, but there is no melodramatic touch to the play.—advertisement.

Few Folks Have
Gray Hair Now
 Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy", which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Women's Woes
 Gettysburg Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up", must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Annie Flaherty, 311 Washington St., Gettysburg, Pa., says "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills during the past several years and am willing to tell of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers. I had weak kidneys for a long time and was also subject to headaches and backaches. Doan's Kidney Pills have removed all these troubles. There is no better remedy for the kidneys."

POSTAL SERVICE SELF-SUPPORTING

Burleson Reports a Surplus of $3,841,906.

GROWTH OF PARCEL POST

About 300,000,000 Packages Handled in First Six Months—Wants Aerial Mail Service.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Postmaster General Burleson reports the postal service self-supporting for the first time since 1883.

In his annual report he says that for the fiscal year which ended June 30 last the department had an actual surplus of $3,841,906.

Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general in the Taft administration, laid claim to the honor of being the first official since 1883 to put the department on a self-sustaining basis. He reported a surplus of $219,218 for the fiscal year 1911.

Mr. Burleson refers to these figures, and without using Hitchcock's name characterizes them as misleading. He contends that the Hitchcock figures did not take into account the obligations of the department contracted in the course of the year and still outstanding on June 30.

"There was in reality," says Mr. Burleson, "a deficit of approximately $733,000."

In outlining the general policy of the administration toward the postal service, Mr. Burleson says:

"The dominant policy of the present administration will be to conduct the postal service for the convenience of the public and not for profit. The prime consideration in perfecting the personnel of the postal service shall be to recognize efficiency and to eliminate partisanship."

In speaking of the parcel post service, which was put in operation Jan. 1, 1913, Mr. Burleson says the growth of the business has been phenomenal. In the first six months of its operation practically 300,000,000 parcels were handled.

"The popularity of the parcel post cannot be doubted," says the postmaster general. "Its facilities are better and its rates generally lower than those of private companies."

The postmaster general says the system will be developed to just as great an extent in the matter of the size of packages to be carried and other features as will enable the department to maintain itself on a self-supporting basis. The postmaster general expects that the revenues from this source will be so greatly increased from time to time reductions in rates may be made.

Mr. Burleson asks for an appropriation of $50,000 to provide for an experimental aerial mail service. "It is believed," says he, "that there are sections of the country where, because of topographical conditions, this class of service might be advantageously employed in some cases."

Mr. Burleson reports that the postal savings system on June 30 last was in operation in 12,158 offices, and since then the service has been extended to 219 presidential offices. The number of savings depositors at the end of the fiscal year were 331,000 and the amount on deposit $33,818,000.

ASK DECISION ON PASSES

Railroad Men Discuss Question With Public Service Commission.

Harrisburg, Pa., Dec. 18.—The first steps to get an official statement from the public service commission regarding the legality of issuance of passes to families of railroad employees were taken here by a committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, brought to Harrisburg by Representative George C. Irwin, of Hollidaysburg, who himself is an engineer.

The committee discussed the situation with Deputy Attorney General Morris Wolf, and then arranged with Secretary A. B. Millar, of the commission, to file a formal statement with the commission after it receives its full powers on Jan. 1.

It is expected that other organizations of railroad men will supplement the action of the committee and that the whole question in all its phases will come up in the new year.

Jersey Town Dismantled.

Washington, N. J., Dec. 18.—The town of Edison, a few years ago one of the busiest communities in this section of the state, has disappeared. The town went out of existence because of the removal of the industries which gave its former inhabitants employment.

ARREST MURDER SUSPECT

Italian Wanted in Lancaster Caught in Jamaica.

Philadelphia, Dec. 18.—The police here have been notified of the arrest in Kingston, Jamaica, of August Vitale, a wealthy fruit merchant of Lancaster, Pa., who is accused of the murder of Tony Collata, a rival fruit dealer of that city.

Vitale was apprehended on Monday as he stepped from a fruit steamer bound from New York, as the result of advice sent by the Philadelphia authorities.

Collata was found dead along the turnpike just east of Lancaster on Oct. 31, with his neck broken. It was thought at first that he had fallen from his wagon. An examination of the body, however, disclosed a bullet wound.

Two men, Rocco Tassone and Vincenzo Ciralisso, were arrested on Nov. 19 in the mountains of Virginia, charged with the murder.

Later developments convinced the Lancaster authorities that Vitale had hired the men to assassinate Collata, with another man named Tony Mastore, who is also under arrest, for $200.

The murder, according to the police, resulted from a feud among the Italian fruit merchants in Lancaster, Vitale becoming incensed when some of his patronage went to the murdered man.

Extradition papers will be prepared for the removal of Vitale to Lancaster for trial.

RAILROADS VIOLATE SERVICE HOURS LAW

Nearly 300,000 Breaches of Act Are Reported.

Washington, Dec. 18.—"Violations of the law limiting the service of train employees on American railroads to sixteen consecutive hours go to the very heart of the efficiency and safety of train operation," said Commissioner Charles C. McChord, commenting on a statement issued by the interstate commerce commission analyzing the monthly reports of interstate railroads on hours of service during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913.

Nearly 300,000 violations of the sixteen-hour limit were reported by 239 railroads during the year, the roads submitting various reasons why such violations were necessary.

"The difference in efficiency and safety of operation between various railroad systems," Mr. McChord says, "is shown clearly by the commission's analysis in the marked disparity between the ratio of excess service to mileage between railroads serving practically the same territory. For instance, one of the eastern roads, operating more than 5300 miles of track, reports 5224 instances in which trainmen were on duty for periods longer than those provided by law; while another road in the same territory, with a mileage of less than 3500 miles, reports 22,663 such instances."

The law provides a maximum of sixteen hours as the limit of continuous service for trainmen. The carriers are required to report each instance in which an employee serves more than sixteen hours consecutively, a fine of $500 being the penalty for failure to report.

SOCIETY MAN ENDS LIFE

Yates Pennington, Prominent Baltimore Lawyer, Takes Gas.

Baltimore, Dec. 18.—Yates Pennington, forty years old, a lawyer and former member of the board of police examiners, was found dead in a room of the Baltimore Athletic club here. The gas in the room was turned on full.

In the same club George C. Morrison, another of Baltimore's leading citizens, and a friend of Mr. Pennington, ended his life several months ago, also using gas.

A lawyer of ability and high character, Mr. Pennington had the distinction of being prominent not only in society, but also in political affairs. He was separated from his wife.
